DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-8 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ferreira US PUB No. (20010034661).

As per claim 1, Ferreira teaches a method of providing retailer information to a remote customer (abstract), comprising the steps of:

providing an Internet site (site 113, fig.3) hosted by at least one computer server (server 114, fig. 3) in communication with a remote customer computer (user 122, fig. 2/ remote site 119/fig. 3) through a computer network (network 120 and ¶50);

Art Unit: 2153

communicating with said at least one computer server through said Internet site [users 122 access data server 114 through network 120 ¶50];

transposing an actual image of a retail environment as a navigable image within said Internet site [user-navigable digitized image of actual location is provided to a user ¶14-15, see fig. 4];

providing functions to navigate said navigable image within said Internet site [user-navigable digitized image of actual location is provided to a user ¶14-15, fig. 4]; and providing customer selectable links within said navigable image for providing detailed information of a particular retailer of said retail environment [selected links provide more information on the item of interest ¶15-16].

As per claim 2, Ferreira teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the steps of:

transposing an actual image of a interior of said particular retailer as an alternative navigable image within said internet site [user-navigable digitized image of actual location is provided to a user ¶14-15 and ¶56-58, see fig. 4]; and providing customer selectable links within said alternative navigable image for providing detailed information of a particular retailer [¶14-15 and ¶56-58, see fig. 4].

Art Unit: 2153

As per claim 3, Ferreira teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the steps of:

providing retailer information to a remote customer of claim navigable image for providing detailed information of particular goods of a particular retailer [¶56-58, see fig. 4].

As per claim 4, Ferreira teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the steps of:

providing customer selectable links within said alternative navigable image for providing detailed information of particular goods of a particular retailer [¶56-57, see fig. 4].

As per claim 5, Ferreira teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the steps of:

wherein said retail environment is a downtown area of a community [¶56-58, see fig. 4].

As per claim 6, Ferreira teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the steps of:

wherein said retail environment is a shopping center [¶56-58, see fig. 4].

As per claim 7, Ferreira teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the steps of:

wherein said retail environment is a strip mall [¶56-58, see fig. 4].

Art Unit: 2153

As per claim 8, Ferreira teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the steps of:

providing purchasing interface whereby the remote customer may arrange for remote purchase of one of goods and services [¶45 and ¶56].
